GARNET STARS EASILY SWAMP BUFF AND BLUE

Makofski, Bednowitz, O'Neil, High Scorers for Union Quintet, Penetrate Hamilton Defense

SCORE IS 40-17

Buff and Blue Braces in Second Half Scoring 12 Points

Union, represented by one of the classiest court combinations in eastern collegiate basketball, handed the Hamilton basketball team a 40-17 drubbing last Saturday evening on the local court. The visitors assumed the lead at the start of the game and held it throughout the remainder of the encounter.

The winners had little difficulty in repeatedly penetrating the Hamilton defense, scoring 20 points in each period. The Garnet defense, on the other hand, worked smoothly throughout the game and allowed the home team a total of three field goals during the entire combat.

Bednowitz, guard on the Union quintet, shared the honors of the game with Makofski. With 10 points to his credit, Bednowitz was one of the high scorers of the game and he also prevented his forward from registering a single goal from the floor.

Howk played his usual steady defensive game for Hamilton, holding Union's scoring ace, Makofski, to a brace of fielders. Normile played well for the losers, tallying two out of the three field goals scored by Hamilton. Both Howk and Normile were forced out of the game on account of personal fouls.

The visitors set a fast pace during the first half, and, although they failed to do much scoring in the early stages of the game, began finding the basket with regularity near the middle of the period. Union added rapidly to its total in the final part of the period and was far in the lead by a 20-5 score at the half time.

All of Hamilton's points in this period came from the 15 foot mark, not a single field goal being rung up by McBride's crew during the entire half. Union threw its defense deep into Hamilton territory and the losers secured less than a dozen shots at the basket during the 20 minutes of play.

After about five minutes of play in the second period, Normile, freshman flash, finally broke the ice for Hamilton by registering a fielder from near the middle of the floor. It was a beautiful shot coming after a fast reverse turn.

In the final session, Hamilton braced considerably and managed to ring up 12 points for 20 for the winners.

MORRILL GIVES HINTS FOR SUCCESSFUL EXAMS

Prof. Morrill has laid down some suggested rules for conduct during the exam period, which, if followed, will keep the body and mind at the peak of efficiency. They are:

1. Get a reasonable amount of sleep. Lack of it dulls the intelligence. 2. Finish the preparation for the exam before the 10 hours immediately preceding it. Last minute study only confuses. 3. Get a moderate amount of exercise and lots of fresh air. If it is necessary to study for long periods, it is much better to punctuate the work with even five minute intervals of outdoor breathing. 4. If the exam is a difficult one, eat lightly before it. Satisfy the hunger afterward rather than overwork the digestion when the faculties are needed most. 5. Excessive smoking is detrimental to proper clarity of thought. Tobacco will not replace sleep. 6. In case of colds, give them all the care possible. They are a decided handicap. 7. Do not study with a strong light shining directly upon the eyes. 8. If the term's work has not been intelligently done, try for the fundamental principles rather than befuddling details.

To summarize, Prof. Morrill's advice is: Try to get a reasonable amount of sleep, eat moderately, and avoid excesses of all kinds.

In regard to exercise during the exam period, announcement has just been made of the hours when skating will be permitted. The schedule will be as follows: 3-4, general skating; 4-5, informal hockey; 5-6, varsity hockey practice.

MORLEY ON HILL?

It is expected that Hamilton will soon have an opportunity to hear Christopher Morley in the Chapel. He is one of the proposed Myers lecturers for the near future, but he has not as yet been definitely engaged by the committee. Mr. Morley lectured at Hamilton three years ago on the subject, "The Sunny Side of Grub Street," an address which occasioned much enthusiasm at the time. Mr. Morley's most recent book is "Thunder on the Left."

JAMAICA HIGH'S TEAM WINS COLLEGE TROPHY

Although Trophy Is Not Yet Awarded Team Is Sure Winner

The first leg on the Hamilton College Hockey Trophy has virtually been won by Jamaica High, the team on which the three Thompsons, two of them hockey captains here, got their start. Further interest is furnished by the fact that Watson Thompson, '23, assited by Rus, '25, is coaching Jamaica this year.

To gain permanent possession of the trophy, a team must win it in three successive seasons. The cup was first offered this year by a committee of former hockey stars of Hamilton. Competing members in the P. S. A. L. are Jamaica, DeWitt Clinton, Stuyvesant, Erasmus, New Utrecht, and Boys' High. It is expected that this League will stimulate interest in the sport and promote the tendency of its schoolboy stars to come to Hamilton.

While the trophy has not yet been officially awarded to Jamaica, there is little doubt as to the ranking at the end of the season. At present the team has won four games and lost none and has rolled up by far the largest number of points against opponents. To lose their standing, they would have to lose all remaining games by very large scores, which is very improbable. Supremacy on the ice is not new to Jamaica. Last year that school went through the season unbeaten.

Both Watson and Russell Thompson are now playing on the New York A. C. hockey team, which performs frequently in Madison Square Garden, and as a member of the Eastern Amateur Hockey League.

CHARLATANS ARE TO ACT IN DRAMA WEEK

Dramatic Organization Will Give "Night At An Inn"

On Wednesday evening, Jan. 27, the Charlatans will put on "A Night at an Inn" in the main delivery hall of the Utica Public Library. The Charlatans performance is one of the nightly series to be presented under the auspices of the Utica Public Library during the week of Jan. 25-30 for the celebration of National Drama Week.

On Monday, Jan. 25, the Century Club of Utica will give Rostand's play, "The Romancers"; on Tuesday evening the Catholic Women's Club of Utica will present a play "Poor Maddalena", written by Saunders; on Wednesday evening the Charlatans are to appear; on Thursday evening Madame Elli Tompuri will give a Shakesperian recital; on Friday evening the Players Club will give Holworthy Hall's play, "The Valiants"; and on Saturday evening Channing Pollock is to give a lecture on "What Shall We Do About the Theater?" No admission will be charged at any of these performances, and members of the college are invited to attend.

Will Give Two One-Act Plays

In the near future the Charlatans plan to put on a production in Utica of two one-act plays, The Cat and the Cherub, by Fernald, and The Crow's Nest by W. F. Manley. Tryouts have been held and a cast selected for The Cat and the Cherub, as follows:

Chim Fang, Olmsted, '27; Wing Shee, Goodwin, '27; Sun Luey, Robson, '26; Hoo King, G. Tyler, '27; Hwah Kwee, E. Clark, '28; Ah Yoi, Scheu, '29; Hoo Chee, Yuan, '28.

Rehearsals for this play, and tryouts for The Crow's Nest will come immediately after the opening of the new term.

Alex Woollcott, '09, is negotiating with the producers of the New York stage success celebrating the prize ring and the pugilistic world, Is Zat So?

Try-Outs Will Be Held Tuesday

Try-outs for the Intercollegiate Debate Squad will be held in the Chapel at 7:30 p. m. on Tuesday, January 26. Those who are interested should prepare talks from four to six minutes in length on either side of the proposition: Resolved, that this house favors the recognition of the existing regime in Russia. Members of Delta Sigma Rho, and those who have spoken before in Intercollegiate Debate, will not be required to try out before the Debate Council.

A debate on the above subject will be held with Williams College at Williamstown, Mass., on Friday, Feb. 19.

The annual triangular debate which brings Lafayette College here this year, and takes the Hamilton team to debate Union at Schenectady, has been scheduled for Friday, Feb. 26, although it is doubtful if this date will stand. The question debated will likely involve some phase of Chinese territorial integrity. Swartmore College comes here on Friday, Mar. 5. Manager Tyler has also scheduled a debate with Columbia University at New York, for the latter part of February. An agreement has not yet been reached as to the exact date. There is a possibility of one more home debate, as we are in correspondence with Boston College, but the results are doubtful.

Dr. Brandt's German Dictionary Contains Many New War Words

Late Hamilton Professor's Life Work, Just Off the Press—Publication Was Turned Over to Prof. Ibbotson, Is Postponed by the War

The long awaited German-English dictionary, the culmination of 25 years of scholarly research by Herman C. G. Brandt, Ph.D., L.H.D., late professor of German at Hamilton, has just been published. Instead of being a condensed compilation from larger dictionaries the book is a new work based on Dr. Brandt's extensive readings in the German and English literatures. The book is intended primarily as a convenient handbook for American and English students of the German language. Clarity, conciseness and accuracy are its outstanding characteristics.

Dr. Brandt began work on the dictionary in the early 1890's. Careful, patient, thorough, he was not ready to publish until 1915. Then, with the typesetting already well under way, the war made it necessary to postpone publication. Dr. Brandt took advantage of the delay to continue his work, and was able to add many newly established war terms. He was engaged with this work of revision until within a few weeks of his death on Dec. 20, 1920.

After Dr. Brandt's death nothing was done with the work until, in 1922, his son, Frederick F. Brandt, '04, turned the manuscript over to Prof. Ibbotson. At first it was suggested that the college undertake the publication. It was decided, however, to turn the work over to a commercial publishing house. G. E. Stechert & Company accepted the task and arranged to have Breitkopf and Haertel of Leipzig print the book. Dr. Ilse Kiessling of the University of Leipzig and Dr. Hauch and Prof. Ibbotson of Hamilton did the proof reading.

The book is substantially bound, and contains 962 pages printed in clear type, on a good quality paper. The vocabulary is a practical one, containing only words in actual use.

The dictionary is a fitting climax to a series of scholarly, scientfic German text books by the same author.

Herman Carl George Brandt was born at Vilsen, in Hanover, on Dec. 15, 1850. He entered Hamilton in 1868 and was graduated the salutatorian of his class. Following a year of language study abroad, he joined the Hamilton College faculty as instuctor of modern languages. Three years later he became a member of the original teaching staff of Johns Hopkins University, the most remarkable band of scholars ever assembled in this country. Prof. Brandt organized the graduate courses in advanced German and directed the instruction of the department for six years.

In 1882 he accepted appointment to the newly established Munson Chair of Modern Languages at Hamilton. After 18 months of study in Strassburg and Freiburg, Dr. Brandt planned and firmly established our department of modern languages.

In Europe during this time a new school of philologists had been replacing the then current, haphazard methods of teaching the languages, with the scientifically established practices which now prevail in linguistic teaching. Dr. Brandt championed, and was for many years the leading upholder of the new school here in America.

Dr. Brandt published numerous articles in magazines, and wrote several German textbooks. He founded our department of modern languages and did much to expand the function and worth of the college. He was a leader in modern language teaching in America when German and French were considered intruders in the classical curriculum. His fame as a scholar is, life that of Root, North, and Peters —worldwide.

COLGATE YEARLINGS BEST LOCAL FROSH

Maroon Runs Wild on Court to Give Slimers Trouncing

Completely outclassed by their older, heavier, and more experienced opponents, the Hamilton frosh were defeated by the Colgate yearlings here last Friday afternoon to the tune of 54-11. The Buff and Blue first year men fought hard through every minute of play but were wholly unable to cope with the speedy team play of the visitors. The Maroon freshmen showed a well-trained and well-balanced outfit which worked in splendid coordination. The Colgate men showed excellent passwork and fast following. They had a great advantage over Hamilton in their superior size, outweighing the Buff and Blue by nearly two to one. Besides a fast and aggressive offense, the Colgate frosh presented a tight defense.

UNDERGRADUATES ARE ELECTED TO COUNCIL

Mann, Burns, and Howk Are Selected for College Executive Body

At the college meeting held in Commons on Wednesday evening, Dec. 16, H's in fall sports were awarded, members elected to the Executive Council, and an amendment to the Constitution of the Undergraduate Association passed. Alumni representatives on the Executive Council were all reelected. They were Joseph Rudd, Robert Fraser, and Sherrill Sherman. The members of the faculty who had served on the Council for the past year were also reelected, as follows: Dr. Saunders, chairman, Prof. Carruth and Dr. Ristine. Student representatives were then chosen from the four men who had received the highest votes in the morning balloting of the entire college. Mann. Burns, and Howk were elected.

Alumni Association Meets in New York

Dr. Ferry and Dr. Davenport spoke at the dinner of the Alumni Association held at the Hotel Commodore last Friday evening. Elihu Root, owing to a slight illness, was absent. At this time a gift of $50,000 from Alexander C. Sper, '67, for the renovation of Knox Hall was announced. President G. S. Webster presented the association a gavel made of wood from Root's birthplace, Kirkland Cottage, North and South Colleges, Carnegie Library, North home, Alpha Delta Phi Hall, college well, and the 1878 class tree.

HAMILTONIAN WILL BE READY IN APRIL

Much Copy Already Sent to Press—Financial Campaign is Success

According to the latest reports from the editor and manager of the 1927 Hamiltonian, the new year book is progressing in fine style, and will probably be ready for distribution soon after the 15th of April. Most of the copy has been turned over to the printer as well as a good part of the plates.

The class pictures and scurfs, the individual pictures of the faculty, which is to be one of the outstanding features of this year's annual, and as much as possible of the other material has already been sent to press. The rest of the material, such as that of the winter sports and activities will follow as soon as it develops.

The feature section which was introduced in last year's Hamiltonian, will be much larger in this year's annual, taking up from 12 to 15 pages. A special attempt is being made to get a good collection of campus views in all seasons of the year, to make up the photograph department. The snapshots will also be changed somewhat, in that they will be made much bigger than they have been in the past.

The subscription campaign which was conducted early in December has been very successful both among the alumni and the members of the student body. A circular letter was sent to all the alumni who could be reached at the same time that the drive for subscriptions was being held on the Hill. A number of requests for the year book were received bringing the total with those of the students up to 400.

The ads also have been coming fairly easily and the entire advertising section will probably be filled without much difficulty.

All of the contracts that have anything to do with the publishing of the Hamiltonian have been let, and unless some unlooked for delay interposes, the book will come out in the latter part of April as expected.

UNION AND ALUMNI MEET SEXTET NEXT

Alumni Are Strong with Past Stars—Harvard and Syracuse Follow

The Buff and Blue sextet will come up against Union in the fourth hockey game of the season on Saturday, Jan. 23, at 8 o'clock. Last year Hamilton had no difficulty in running up a 13-2 score against the Union players. However, the visitors are said to be somewhat stronger this year and the game will probably be of more interest. With a week more of practice with the full lineup, the Hamilton skaters should be in excellent condition.

One week later, Hamilton meets Hamilton in the way of an alumni-varsity contest. This game promises to be of especial interest this year, as we lost several varsity men last year who will probably come back in the role of alumni. Last year the alumni were only beaten by a 2-1 score, Al Kaiser and Watson Thompson starring. The varsity lost Rus Thompson, Yates, Johnson, J. Valentine, H. Valentine, and Kaiser thru graduation last year. The alumni game is always a contest between well-trained men who know how to play together and individual stars who are out of practice. However, the game promises to be a close one.

The games with Harvard and Syracuse, scheduled for Feb. 3 and Feb. 6 respectively, are really too far ahead to forecast definitely. Harvard always has a strong team, and our sextet is at a disadvantage on the artificial ice at Cambridge—a factor which contributed to the defeat of last year's stellar aggregation. With Syracuse, hockey is a comparatively new sport, and the Orange has usually given us little opposition.

—The next issue of Hamilton Life will be Feb. 9.

SEXTET WINS SPEEDY GAME FROM AGGIES

Hamilton Pucksters Again Hit Stride After Nichols' Fiasco with Return of Captain Van Vleet

FINAL TALLY 5-2

Van Vleet and T. Bald Star—Buff and Blue Run Wild at Finish

The Buff and Blue skaters triumphed for the second time this year Friday night when they defeated the Massachusetts Aggies by a score of 5-2. Although the Aggies were strong on defense, they were unable to withstand the brilliant skating and puck-handling of the locals with Capt. Van Vleet again in the lineup. Capt. Moberg and Forest played good hockey for the Aggies while Van Vleet and T. A. Bald scored the five shots for Hamilton. George Stanley played his customary excellent game at goal thru the three periods. The two teams were evenly matched and the puck seesawed back and forth throughout the first two periods of play. Both teams rallied in the third period but Hamilton scored four goals to its opponent's two.

Play during the first third was fairly even, Hamilton having a slight edge on the New Englanders. The puck was carried up the ice time after time, only to be lost within shooting distance of the cage. Both teams put up a good defense, Hamilton showing the effect of a week's practice of a new system of defense. Neither team seemed to pass very accurately. At last Van Vleet tallied for the Buff and Blue after carrying the puck up the ice three times.

The second period was scoreless although the play was fast and clever enough to keep the spectators on edge. Hassard and Bald both fought hard for Hamilton but were unable to penetrate the Aggies' defense. With Van Vleet and Mann out for a few minutes, the visitors put up a terrific fight but the Buff and Blue skaters managed to keep the puck out of their cage.

The visitors were the first to rally in the last period when Forest took a pretty pass from Moberg and caged it, evening the score. Then Hamilton began its big rally. Van Vleet took the puck up the length of the ice, rinked around the Aggies' cage, and scored after a brisk scrimmage. Then Bald carried the puck through the visitors' defense and lifted it into the net, scoring one of the prettiest shots of the evening. Shortly after this Van Vleet again got possession of the puck and, carrying it past the defense, passed to Bald who made one more tally for the Buff and Blue. During this onslaught the Aggies' guard seemed to have great difficulty in staying on his feet.

At this period of the game, Coach Prettyman sent in his second team for a few minutes and Forest of the Aggies managed to sink a shot after a scrimmage around Hamilton's goal. The Buff and Blue first team came

CROWDS FINALLY REACH DECISIONS ON PARTIES

Due to the decision of the Junior Class not to give a Prom this year, the plans of several crowds were deranged. For some time there have been conflicting rumors making the rounds of the campus stating positively that certain of the fraternities had decided to continue their plans for a mid-year party, and that certain others were going to hold a party some time after the beginning of the new semester. At last practically all of the crowds have decided definitely what they intend to do.

The Chi Psis, Psi Us, and Sigs are going to have a weekend houseparty on the 12th and 13th of February. The Theta Delts are undecided what they will do. All the other fraterniies have come to the conclusion that a winter party is not so good as it is generally supposed, and therefore will not hold one.

On that weekend Hamilton will meet Oberlin here on the basketball court, and Amherst on the ice in the Sage Building. Amusement for men in the college will consist in watching the coasting contest on the afternoon of the 13th when the co-eds, pro tem, get their first taste of the good old Hamilton highboy.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT

Beginning with the next issue of Life, a series of signed editorials will appear in this column. There will be 12 editorials in the series. They will all be on some subject of general interest to college students in general, and to Hamilton students in particular. The writers of these editorials have been at work for some time, gathering together relevant material.

The subjects taken up in the editorials will be on both local and general questions. Here are a few titles taken at random: "The College Student and the Next War"; "The College Student and Religion"; "The College Student and Flaming Youth"; "The College Student and Professors."

On several occasions during the year, the editor of Life has been criticized for printing opinions in his editorials that might not be supported by the majority of the students in Hamilton College. It was argued that Life as the college paper, should not print any statement editorially that did not reflect the general opinion of the college. Discussion along this line was particularly violent in connection with an editorial that condemned the Colgate football game next fall. Therefore, in connection with this forthcoming series of editorials, it has been decided to print the initials of the writers in order to avoid the kind of criticism that was met before.

Some of these 12 editorials are likely to prove provocative. They will be straightforward statements of the views of the writers, without any attempt to straddle the fence. That all the readers of the ediorials will agree with the contents is not to be expected. In fact, it is hoped that the readers of Life will feel at complete liberty to question or deny any statements made. If enough interest is aroused among our alumni and students, a special space will be set aside in Life each week as an open forum for discussion. The only requirements will be that the writers of the letters give their names. If desired, the letters may be printed over initials, or anonymous names, but in any case the names of the writers must be given to the editor.

The real purpose of these editorials is to try to arouse student interest on matters that are of real importance to them. It is often said that the interests of college students are confined to athletics and social life. We do not believe this, and feel confident that real expressions of student opinion and thought will be stirred up by the forthcoming editorials.

A HISTORY OF HAMILTON FOOTBALL

The All-Hamilton football teams selected by Life and published in last week's issue attracted more than passing attention. Apart from the general interest in the men who were picked for these teams, there was a great deal of interest in the comments about old and new football made by the alumni who chose the teams.

A prominent alumnus in making his report to Life suggested that a history of football at Hamilton College should be written. This is an excellent idea. And now is the time for such a history to be written. If this task is postponed for too long a period, it will no longer be possible to enlist the aid of the founders of football at Hamilton in the compiling of the history. We put this matter up to the alumni as one well worthy of their consideration.

ALAS, POOR HAMILTON!

This is a fitting time to discuss the Hamiltonian. The senior class is at present in the midst of many difficulties in connection with paying for the 1926 Hamiltonian. The book went in debt, and it will be necessary for the class to settle this debt.

It is obvious that any publication that has the financial difficulties that the Hamiltonian does should not exist, unless these difficulties can be eliminated. Every Hamiltonian for many years has gone into debt. Several years ago each man had to pay $20 in order to clear the debt. It has often been suggested that the book be abandoned, on the grounds that Hamilton College is not large enough to support a dignified annual. Yet each Junior Class votes to support the book.

There is one very logical solution for this dilemma, but a solution that has been frowned upon in official sources. If each man in College was charged so much on his term bill for the Hamiltonian, it would be possible to issue the book at a cheaper price, and to insure satisfactory financial support. The Hamiltonian is a college institution and should be supported as such.

TUITION AND ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS CHANGED

The new issue of the Hamilton College Bulletin is now on hand at the President's office, and contains the schedule of the college program for the following year. It is interesting to note that the tuition, beginning with the class of 1930, has been raised. Hitherto tuition has been $150, but in the future it is to be $200. Dormitory room rents are to remain as hitherto.

There is one change in the entrance requirements. The results of the Regents examinations taken not later than June 1926 will be accepted in all admission subjects with 65 as the passing mark. The results of the Regents examinations taken after June 1926 will be accepted with a requirement of either a passing mark of 75 in individual subjects or an average mark of 75 in all the Regents examinations taken in admission subjects by the candidate after that date.

The Spring Recess covers a period of 11 days this year. It begins at 4:30 on Thursday, March 25, and ends at 8 on Tuesday, April 6. Examination period starts on May 31. College closes for the summer on June 14.

SENIOR COMMITTEES ANNOUNCED BY FREEMAN

William Freeman, president of the Senior Class, recently announced the personnel of the various senior committees. They are as follows, the first one in each being the chairman: Commencement: N. Holley, G. Stanley, Ricketts; Class Gift: H. Marquardt, Bohn, Deming Payne; Gown: David Paine, Fahrenholz, Van Vleet; Senior Ball: Ricketts, Michels, Taylor; Class Day: Skinner, Button, Collins; Class Banquet: Robson, Squier.

DR. CLARK SPEAKS HERE ON ROUMANIA

Former Yale Professor Gives Interesting Address on Europeans

Dr. Charles Upson Clark, former professor at Yale University and well known traveller and public lecturer, addressed a combined meeting of the Latin and History Clubs last Monday night at Sigma Phi Hall on the subject of Roumania. Dr. Clark, who in addition to being professor of Latin at Yale was for several years the head of the Classical School at Rome, was called by the Roumanian Government some time ago to assist them in straightening out their public affairs.

Starting with the time when the Romans first settled in that part of the country which is now Roumania, Dr. Clark showed the changes in the boundaries, rulers, languages and customs of the country up to the present time, finally pointing out some of the conditions and customs that exist in the country today.

According to Dr. Clark, people of the Latin race came over the mountains and inhabited the fertile plains of that section of Europe, but were later driven out by the barbarians consisting of Goths, Slavs, Russians and Serbs. At that time the language spoken was Latin but Greek was used in writing. During the proceeding years, the language spoken became more of a dialect due to the variety of races that were represented until today the tongue is greatly changed from the Latin.

Dr. Clark further remarked that during the middle ages there were no schools, no books and no education in general. Thus the language gradually declined. All the literature which was produced at this time was not written in Roumania, but in Transylvania, inasmuch as no language at all was written in Roumania for a hundred years up to the time of the reformation.

Jumping to more recent times, Prof. Clark related several incidents which happened to a friend of his, and showed the great hatred existing between Hungary and Roumania. The hatred was so strong that no language but Hungarian was spoken in the schools, and although the other language was used in other places, anybody speaking both tongues was forced to use the Hungarian or pay a large fine. When the Roumanians later came into power they went so far as to change the names of all the streets.

In speaking of the time following the World War, Dr. Clark told some humorous incidents concerning distribution of territory after the upheaval. In dividing a certain section of the territory an attempt was made to put the more strongly Serbian section on one side of the line. This boundary line has created a great many disputes and many peculiar incidents since the Serbs are not at all tolerant of the Roumanians. One case of a farmer was related in which the man concerned was forced to have a passport to go from his house to the out buildings. In several places even the children must have passports to go to school and their lunch baskets are searched as they pass back and forth across the border. Many articles cannot be taken from one country to the other, so there is a great deal of smuggling carried on, gas, oil, soap and alcohol being the main contraband articles. Distilleries are set up on the banks of the river from whence their products can be smuggled across without difficulty.

Following the completion of his remarks, Dr. Clark answered whatever questions the members present wished to ask.

RUTH DRAPER NOMINATED FOR THE HALL OF FAME

Ruth Draper, the only woman ever given a degree by Hamilton College, was recently nominated for the Hall of Fame by Vanity Fair.

Every month Vanity Fair nominates four or five people, who, in the opinion of the staff of the magazine, have proved themselves deserving of this honor. It is not known how much influence these nominations exert upon the final appointees, but it is recognized, to say the least, as a distinct honor.

Underneath a picture of Miss Draper there appeared the following brief account, telling why she was nominated.

"We nominate for the Hall of Fame, Ruth Draper, because she is an expert monologist and impersonator; because audiences in London, Paris, and Madrid, as well as in New York, hailed her as a whole art theater in her own person, and finally because she is the only woman Hamilton College ever gave a degree."

The honorary degree of Master of Arts was conferred upon Ruth Draper in 1924.

Carpe Diem

It may interest you to know that this dep't is unauthorized to announce that William—ah, wait till we look the rest of his name up in the catalog; here it is: H. Freeman, smeller of rats par excellence, will circulate among the crowd on Commencement Day next June to look for pickpockets, con men, embezzlers, and rascals in general. We adjure Mr. Freeman not by any chance to arrest a trustee who happens to reach into his own pocket for a handkerchief that perhaps he brought with him.

"I will appoint a committee," Mr. Freeman did not tell the editor of this colyum, "composed of some of the fine minds of the class; and the Oldest Living Graduate, if he is seen picking a dime off the sidewalk, is sure to get the squarest kind of a deal from us."

Thank you, sir, very, very, very kindly.

* * *

This pillar of thought is now open for discussion on the following question: Whom should be Board of Trustees trade in besides Prex and Molly, for a good running backfield, with very few questions asked? Heads of departments are preferred, but anyone at all will be considered, except Supe, who is now working out for a job as "sleeper" on Carpe's all-Falstaffian court squad. Ballots must be marked Yes, No, or Yes and No, and nothing personal can be added.

Add Famous Finales:

"Guess I'll smack Brownie's final for a loop this a. m., though I haven't looked at the book in a month."

Visitor in Commons: "Yes, please, I'll try some more hash." (thanks to XYZ).

MORE FAMOUS HAMILTON EPICS

Full of wrath was Burrhus Beerus;
Spake he to the old Bartender,
"Fill my glass with Minnehaha,
Minnehaha, Laughing Water."
Then in came a bunch of maidens;
Burrhus Beerus stood and watched them,
Learned their names and all their secrets,
Where they hid themselves in winter,
Called them "Burrhus Beerus' Chickens."

WHIFF.

Jay Kay leaves an unfinished fragment of a poem on Carpe's desk; designs not clear.

Dear Carp:

I wonder if you
Could conceive of a worse
Misfortune than falling in love
With a nurse?.....

If it's advice that the lad wants, we can only tell him hereafter to obey "that im-pulse."

Not to belittle Red Grange at all, but at least one Hamilton man has carried a ball much farther—see the American Mercury for last September—and it had a chain on it, too. This info is gladly submitted to the next Hamiltonian which, we understand, has a special department devoted to famous Hamilton crooks. Tush, tush, lads! You'll never get into the local Rotary Club that way!

The Clinton Fire Department was almost called up the Hill the other night; someone saw smoke coming out of a chimney in Carnegie, and thought that the dormitory was on fire. Was Mr. Burton heating water for his personal bath?

Dear Carp:

There are only 342 more shocking days until Christmas.

LITTLE EM'LY.

When the runners are bunched on the track—and suddenly Chuck, your own superman half-miler, spurts ahead on the finish and wins

—have a Camel!

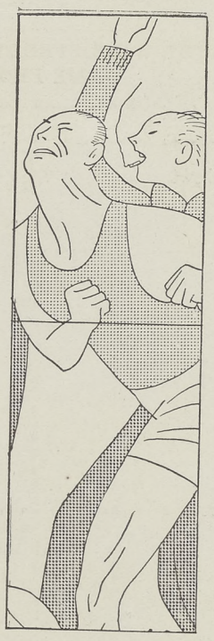
Into the making of this one cigarette goes all of the ability of the world's largest organization of expert tobacco men. Nothing is too good for Camels. The choicest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. The most skilful blending. The most scientific package. No other cigarette made is like Camels. No better cigarette can be made. Camels are the overwhelming choice of experienced smokers.

WHEN the lithe half-milers are fighting for the lead. And your own dauntless champion suddenly soars ahead and wins—have a Camel!

For you'll never find another friend so attuned to your triumphs as Camel. Camels are made of the choicest tobaccos grown — they never disappoint your taste. Camels annihilated cigaretty after-taste. Regardless of price, you'll never buy better tobaccos, or blending, or flavor than you get in Camels.

So this year when the old school's men go through for victory after victory — taste then the smoke that's choice of the world's victorious.

Have a Camel!



Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price.

NEW LINE-UP MAY PLAY ALUMNI GAME

Jack Hatch, Last Year's Star, Will Captain Alumni Quintet

Following a week's lay-off because of examinations, the Hamilton basketball team will resume its court activities in a game with the Alumni here on Saturday, Jan. 30. Although originally scheduled as the Prom game, the Alumni encounter is expected to attract considerable attention from basketball fans in this vicinity.

Jack Hatch, captain of last year's five, will head the Alumni quintet. Despite the fact that the court game is comparatively new at Hamilton, several real basketball stars have been developed here during the past few years, most of whom have agreed to return to the Hill for the first Alumni game.

There is a distinct possibility that Hamilton will present a new lineup in the Alumni encounter. Several men who have been unable to perform on the varsity during the first term because of ineligibility may be able to pass off their delinquencies during the final examinations and again be eligible to play.

Among those at present ineligible who may be available following the mid-year exams are Rowley, Stackhouse, and Alison. Reed Rowley, who carned a letter last year, has proved a stumbling block in the path of the varsity during the practices in which he has performed with the second team and should do considerable the coming term. Stackhouse has shown up well at guard in the practice sessions and Alison may be able to make matters warm for the regular forwards.

There is also a possibility that Captain Payne, who has alternated between the guard and forward positions during the past three years may be pushed up to forward in the Alumni tilt. Burns, who has handled the pivot position on the second team this year, may break into the regular lineup.

Following the Alumni game, the Hamilton quintet will make its first out of town stand of the season, playing at Hobart and Rochester. Hobart nosed out McBride's crew by a narrow margin here early in the season while Rochester is reputed to have one of the best fives in this section of the state.

MANY HAMILTON MEN ARE IN WORK ABROAD

Numerous Alumni Are in Foreign Service Department

According to a recent survey Hamilton College is particularly well represented in the American Foreign Service Department of the government. Hamilton men are now stationed in all parts of the world, representing the United States, and many of them have had interesting experiences in their work.

William Miller Collier, '89, is at present ambassador to Chile, and is playing a distinguished part in the Tacna-Arica controversy.

Joseph R. Baker, '83, is the recognized authority in the Department with regard to extraditing criminals to the United States and arranging for their deportation to face trial for crimes committed in foreign countries.

John G. Erhardt, '15, has had an interesting experience in the consular service, having been stationed at Athens, Greece, and at Winnipeg, Manitoba, where he was in charge of the Consulate General until a few months ago.

John Bruins, '17, is at Riga, Latvia, not far from Memel, a city which was the subject of a disputed plebiscite sovereignty, which Arthur Bullard, '14, helped to bring to a peaceful settlement.

In Warsaw, Poland, two Hamilton men are engaged in the task of regulating Polish immigration into the United States, namely, Art Tower, '21, and Al Morris, '23.

Jack Holler, '20, may be found near one of th canals of Venice. Prior to his post there Jack was stationed at Bilboa, the source of supply of a high grade Spanish wine, and subsequently he was at Gibraltar.

Hinke, '22, served for a few months in the highlands of Mexico, and a year at a large sugar port in Cuba.

Dr. Wood has rather complete information on the subject for any who are interested in Foreign Service work, and the College Library offers several reference books of value, but particularly Gaillard Hunt's 'The Department of State,'' and Tracy H. Lay's ''The Foreign Service of the United States.'' Mr. Lay is Consul General at the present time.

—A meeting of the Hamilton Chapter of Delta Sigma Rho was held last Wednesday. At this time the members considered several proposed amendments to the constitution of the national organization.

—At a meeting of the Charlatans held Wednesday morning after chapel, Philip C. Sayres, '27, was awarded a key by the organization.

—John H. Pardee, '89, president of the J. G. White Management Company, was reelected president of the Philippine-American Chamber of Commerce on Jan. 13 at the sixth annual meeting of the oranization, held in the offices of the White Company in New York. Mr. Pardee is a member of Theta Delta Chi and Phi Beta Kappa.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Continuing their plan of last year, the International Magazine Company, publishers of Good Housekeeping and Cosmopolitan magazines, will, during the summer of 1926 employ a large number of college men in the capacities of salesmen, team captains or supervisors. A new form of agreement has been drawn up incorporating in addition to a liberal weekly salary, many new and attractive features in the way of bonuses, extra rewards, etc. Within the near future, one of our representatives will visit your college for the purpose of interviewing applicants; or in the meantime, application blanks and full particulars can be secured by writing direct to International Magazine Company, 105 Court St., Brooklyn, N. Y.
